Simulyzer-Box or PC-ID bound software license

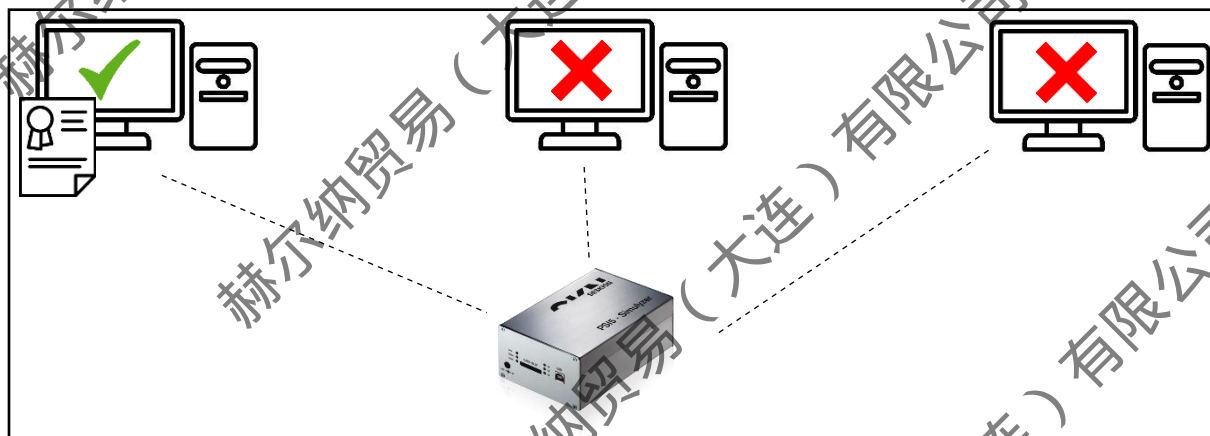

Simulyzer-Box bound license

Should you connect a Simulyzer box with integrated license to a PC, then you can use the complete functionality of the software available on our website (<https://www.seskion.de/>). You can then connect this box to any other PC. Once the software is installed, you can then use the software with full functionality with any PC.

PC-ID bound license

If you have the PC-ID bound license, this license is only valid on the PC you are using. If you connect the Simulyzer box to another PC, the software cannot be used here due to the missing license.

If you need several Simulyzer boxes for your measurements, you can operate several Simulyzer boxes with only one PC-ID bound license. In this case, only one software license is required to access the full functionality.
